

IN PLACE OF STRIFE

The Mediation Chambers

Bill Wood QC

Bill Wood was appointed QC in 1999. His litigation practice centres on insurance and reinsurance, aviation, professional negligence and general commercial disputes. He is recommended for both insurance and aviation work by each of the two main legal directories.

Bill trained as a mediator in 1999 and is now an accredited CEDR mediator and member of the CEDR faculty. He has a growing mediation practice and at present mediates around fifty disputes each year. The majority are insurance or reinsurance disputes. He has also dealt with a number of disputes over rights to data in the sports world, company acquisition disputes, professional negligence claims and disputes in the education sector.

Bill lectures and writes on mediation both here and abroad.

“Excellent bedside manner”

“He guides rather than pushes people”

“Effective style, conducted with a good sense of humour”

Chambers Guide to the Legal Profession, 2006-08